

Thursday noon

Dear Caroline,

Anne has just condescended to tell me that Mr Kingsbury goes this afternoon to N.B.
Edmund has sent his letter per mail, if she had told me when she first knew it, I could have secured that. If you can get any one to go to the post office you will find it there You can't conceive the richness of the times. It really seems one of the earlier N.E. Conventions, only 20 times as large. Sub's for Standard goes on well Andrew came up this morning Angier is very much on hand called to go with L & E this evening I was asked to dine & is coming again this afternoon. Andrew guzzled like an oge when he saw him with them & complimented him on being in such good company Angier would come home through Wash St with Emma on his arm in order to show himself to his mis-terious brethren in such company I will tell you ~~some~~ be just what they say when they see some new sail. Just think I saw Jones of Scam this morning at the meeting just the same as ever, at the Anti S. meeting. He was looking for Mary Green Wendell is looking very ill. — Samuel Hall is thronged every minute of the time. The res against Gov Briggs is out in the Post Mr Channing speaks this afternoon, upon the war.

Mrs Chapman is very poorly. Hopper dined with us to-day. Love to Lorry.

Edmund is above all praise his hand is never off the helm.
